Additional Soil Testing

If the applicant / Soil Evaluator / Design Engineer / Sanitarian decides to conduct additional soil testing in either the same or slightly different location from that originally tested an additional fee of one half the original amount must be submitted prior to scheduling the testing date. If only re-confirmatory testing is to be conducted the applicant may only be required to pay the Board's Sanitary Inspector's per diem rate. If the soil testing is in an entirely different location from that originally tested, the "additional soil testing" will be considered and charged as if it were in a new location and the entire fee for new construction will apply.
